

2013

Navdeep Kaur

Content Coordinator

India has witnessed advancement in all fields but bias against a girl child still prevails. I want India to be a country where the birth of a girl is celebrated with the same great zeal as that of a boy. And we as the young generation of this country should take the responsibility of saving the girl child as it is one of the most important issues that the country faces today.